

I favor establishment of the radioteletype broadcast proceeding RM-10765. Radioteletype transmission over common shortwave frequencies can provide an additional, very robust, medium with which to disseminate news and other vital information. This will be a very effective use of broadcast spectrum, using readily available and inexpensive technology.

I strongly support implementation of this important alternative technology and urge the FCC to approve Docket RM-10765.

Regards,

Jim Andrew